Parent Pledge

The White Paper (2022) outlines The Parent Pledge as a promise from the government—delivered through schools—to families: any child who falls behind in English or maths will receive timely, targeted, and evidence-based support to help them reach their full potential.

At Freemantle, this is a commitment we have long embraced. Our ethos has always been to ensure that every child, regardless of background or circumstance, receives the support they need to thrive—not only in English and maths but across the entire curriculum.

How will we achieve this?

High-Quality Teaching

The foundation of every child's success is great teaching. That's why we invest in continuous professional development to ensure our teachers have the skills, knowledge, and confidence to meet the diverse needs of our learners.

Reliable Assessment

We have robust and consistent assessment systems in place to quickly identify when a child needs extra help. These assessments inform targeted interventions, ensuring every child receives the right support, at the right time, in the right way.

Targeted Additional Support

Children who need additional help may benefit from small group sessions, one-to-one time with a teacher or learning support assistant, or access to academic clubs. We believe that every child deserves this level of care and opportunity.

Evidence-Informed Practice

We are committed to using the best educational research and practices. By learning from high-performing schools and sharing expertise across strong partnerships, we continually improve our approaches for the benefit of our children.

At Freemantle, this isn't just a pledge — it's who we are...

Together, we help every child reach their full potential, because every child deserves a champion.
