

Reading Roundup

Great books, big feelings, happy readers!

Each half term, we share a selection of brilliant books with the children. Here are some of the stories we've been enjoying in our Reading Roundup!

Not Now, Bernard

A story of a boy who gets eaten by a monster and his parents don't notice.

Courage Bear

Introducing the value of courage, we follow the story of Courage Bear and how to try new things at Freemantle.

Ruby's Worries

A story where we explore big feeling and how we can 'shrink' them by working together.

Creative Octopus

We follow the story of Creative Octopus and how we can use our imagination and team work.

What's in the Witches Kitchen?

A fun and interactive story that inspires imagination and making choices.

Fellowship Otter

A story to explore working together and being kind to our friends.

Why we love these books...

- ★ They introduce new characters and exciting settings.
- ★ They spark curiosity and imagination.
- ★ They help children explore big feelings and important themes like kindness, friendship, courage and resilience.
- ★ They give us lots of questions to talk about and share together.

Look out for these books at home, and keep sharing your favourite stories with us!
